

BRIEF IS FILED IN GRAIN FUTURES CASE

GOVERNMENT REPLIES TO CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE ALLEGATIONS

Declares Fundamental Question Involved is Whether Congress or the Board of Trade Shall Regulate Interstate Commerce and the United States Postal Laws

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—In a brief filed in the supreme court today the government declared that the fundamental question involved in the case brought by the Chicago Board of Trade to have the grain futures act declared unconstitutional was whether congress or that grain exchange should regulate interstate and foreign commerce and the postal laws so as to control the great "current of commerce" flowing between the markets of the world's supply of wheat, corn and other cereals.

The government stated that its position in the present grain future case would be the same as that presented when the packers and stock yards act was under attack. In that case the supreme court in sustaining the law held the government declared, that "commission merchants and traders, engaged in purchases and sales, identically as in the instant case, constituted a part of the current of commerce which was subject to regulation."

Congress in enacting the grain futures act, the government asserted, followed the packers and stock yards act.

DISSATISFACTION IS EXPRESSED BY FARM BLOC LEADERS

Do Not Like Delay on Farm Credits Measure

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—House consideration of the farm credits program began today with a near fist fight and wound up tonight with open expressions of dissatisfaction by farm bloc leaders over what they characterized as the delay of the banking committee in reporting out measures before it.

Representative Anderson, Republican, Minnesota, joint author of the Lenroot-Anderson farm credit bill, said that with the end of congress two weeks away that measure passed by the senate and approved by the secretaries of commerce and agriculture had disappeared in a fog and was likely to fall because the committee "seemed unwilling to report it out."

Defending the committee Republican Leader Mondell assailed the senate which he said had sent to the house two measures, the Lenroot-Anderson and the Capper bills, both seeking the same ends, "diametrically opposite methods."

He declared he had every confidence that a bill covering rural credits would be reported in due time, adding that meantime it was the duty of the house to pass the bill before it, the strong measure, amending the federal farm loan act and facilitating the activities of the whole land bank system.

Immediately after the strong bill was taken up there was a personal encounter by Representative Wingo, Arkansas, ranking Democrat on the banking committee and Representative Jones, Democrat, Texas, over the division of time for debate. They were quickly separated and the incident was closed later with expressions of regret by both members.

Throughout the day there were strong clashes in debate attended by inquiries as to the status in committees of the senate farm measures. Representative Anderson, a farm bloc leader, brought the question to a direct issue asserting that the legislation had been before the banking committee several weeks and that no action had been taken.

"I challenge the attention of the house," Mr. Anderson said, "to the fact that this legislation is likely to fall because the banking committee seems unwilling to report it. The administration promised this relief to the farmers and I believe the country should know where the responsibility for failure lies if it is not passed."

In an effort to complete the bill the house went into a night session.

ILLINOIS ASSEMBLY SESSIONS PROMISE SOME EXCITEMENT

Week Promises to be Filled with Important Developments

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 17.—This week's session of the legislature beginning Tuesday promises to be filled with developments ranging from decisions in two election contests to a possible flight either in the senate executive committee or on the senate floor over certain resolutions to be considered by the upper body.

The holiday Thursday will not interfere with the session in the house according to announcements as members are anxious to clean up pending business and to act on reports on various during the past two weeks.

Next week promises to be dull and it is likely that no session will be held in either body due to the elections on Tuesday, when many legislators prefer to remain in their home districts. Adjournment on Thursday of this week until Tuesday, March 6, is indicated.

Six election contests are before the house. Two have been set for hearing on next Wednesday and two for February 28, but these may be postponed until a week later in the event no session is held. The remaining cases have not been docketed by the elections committee of which Representative Ralph Church of Evanston is chairman.

All pleadings, notices, or other papers of the contestant must be filed with the election committee by Tuesday under the rules. The contests will be heard on three questions: First, jurisdiction; second, upon the merits; and third, upon the merits. Under the rules of the committee any contest may be dismissed for want of jurisdiction or want of sufficient petition or notice.

The two contests set for this week involve the following: In the eighth district, Charles F. Hayes vs. Charles H. Francis, William F. Weiss, William L. Pice and Owen E. Hammond. In the eleventh district, Philip M. Geisler vs. David I. Swanson, John M. Lee, George A. Fitzgerald, Henry Groenier, Roy L. Wolfe and George W. O'Neil.

The cases set for next week are:

Twenty first district, James Vignola vs. William F. Daley, M. F. Her, B. M. Mitchell, H. W. Harris and M. J. Moriarty. In the twenty seventh district, Ignatz Stankiewicz vs. Albert Rosentzowsky, Joseph A. Trandel and William Lippka.

RELIC OF THE YEAR ONE B. P. CAUSES BIG SENSATION IN N. Y.

Learned Men Said it Was of the Hennessey Dynasty

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—A genuine relic of the year 1 B. C. (before prohibition) knocked from the hands of a wealthy whiskey dealer when he collided with another pedestrian in the street before the Hudson tube terminal today was viewed with as much interest as if it had been the mummy of the Pharaoh Tutankhamun.

It was genuine sample enclosed in thirteen glass containers of the oil in which the carcass of the Pape Bar-Ley-Corn was saturated before being placed in the tomb. The hieroglyphics "xxx" on one of the containers several learned men in the crowd said, revealed that the relic was of the "Hennessey dynasty."

The containers were encased in a leather bag. When the bag was dropped one of the containers broke, its contents trickling to the cobblestones. Hundreds of curious persons gathered, but none would touch the bag. Finally prohibition men came and took it away.

The crowd sighed. Many hurried into nearby soda fountains.

BRINGS SUIT IN SUM OF $500,000 AGAINST CANDLER

Founder of Cocoa Cola Company Faces Breach of Promise

(By The Associated Press)
ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 17.—Suit for $500,000 alleged breach of promise to marry and claiming aggravated damages was filed in federal court today by attorneys representing Mrs. Oneshina de Bouchel, of New Orleans, well known in social circles throughout the south, against Asa G. Candler, of Atlanta, millionaire founder of the Coca Cola company.

Mrs. de Bouchel's suit declared that Mr. Candler broke their engagement on the eve of what was to have been their wedding date telling her in a letter that he had "received from sources he was bound to believe," that she had received improper visits from two men while attending the confederate reunion in Atlanta in October 1919. These charges, the petition said, "are false."

"Defendant has persisted," the petition said, "in his refusal to even divulge to plaintiff in response to her urgent request and demands, the names of the authors of said charges, or of those by whom said charges were conveyed to him. Your petitioner, therefore, brings this action for damages in order that the matters herein set out may be freely inquired into and determined by a jury of said district."

Accompanying the petition was a supporting affidavit by Mrs. de Bouchel signed in Cook county, Illinois, before Gladys L. Harvey, a notary public, and dated February 13. In her petition the plaintiff says she is a citizen and resident of Nebraska.

Mr. Candler's answer is returnable at the March term and the case is expected to come to trial at the September session.

THE PIED PIPER OF HAMLIN EMULATED BY PROHIBITION AGENT

J. L. Asher Goes Out With Violin and Brings in Big Game

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Thru the magic strains of "When Johnny Comes Marching Home Again" from the strings of a violin in the hands of J. L. Asher, Washington's versatile revenue agent, who for a week has been assaying the role of a modern Pled Piper of Hamlin, more than 80 alleged bootleggers have been uncovered recently and were arrested today after raids conducted simultaneously in every section of the capital. More than 56 individual raids were conducted, netting in addition to the prisoners 3,999 gallons of liquor of all sorts.

Switching his disguise from ash cart driver and coal deliverer by means of which he recently collected evidence, Asher last week donned the shabby, but gay clothes of a wandering minstrel, selected a harp playing companion from the detective squad, George Bauer and from their limited assortment of old time melodies played their way into the hearts of Washingtonians and to the trails of bootleg whiskey.

A store room full of pint bottles and demijohns of whiskey and who collected by the mistletoe revenue agents was sorted last night by prohibition chiefs and police and orders given the raiders for their drive today.

All afternoon the patrol wagons ran hurriedly between the fast traveling squads of raiders in the various police precincts carrying prisoners to the station houses while government trucks hauled in the gallons of confiscated liquors.

BAILIN ARRESTED ON CRIMINAL LIBEL CHARGE YESTERDAY

Preferred by Assistant General Manager of Burns' Agency

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Albert Ballin, alias Balanow, confessed spy and agent provocateur of various detective agencies, today was arrested on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Allen O. Myers, assistant general manager of the W. J. Burns International Detective Agency.

The charge grew out of Balanow's sworn statements during a deposition taken by Frank P. Walsh for the defense of 22 alleged communists facing trial at St. Joseph, Michigan. Myers charges that Balanow libeled him when he swore that he had written a letter threatening to blow up the Woolworth Building and kill the postmaster of New York by order of Myers, who at that time was his employer. Balanow surrendered immediately after leaving the witness stand this morning after learning from newspapermen that the warrant had been issued. Ed Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, deposited $25,000 in cash for his bail and he was released.

Myers spent most of the day on the stand describing his work for the Burns agency and the activities of a former Burns operative, Lindendelf, who after investigating the Wall Street bomb explosion for Burns, was arrested in Warsaw, Poland as a suspect in that case. Efforts of Mr. Walsh to question Myers about a trip he made to Russia a year or more ago on which he was supposed to have met Lindendelf failed when the witness said he had been instructed by Attorney General Daugherty thru W. J. Burns, head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, to answer no questions about the European trip.

He testified that at the time of the trip he was working for the government as a dollar a year man and that his regular salary was paid by the Burns agency. He said he frequently was loaned to the government by the Burns agency and on those occasions carried a government badge but that no other Burns operatives to his knowledge had used government credentials.

Lindendelf told him, Myers said, that the Burns agency had given him $3,500 to make the trip to Europe which ended in his arrest at Warsaw as a bomb suspect, but Myers said he had no other knowledge of the payment or its purpose.

Lindendelf, the examination disclosed, was a member of the communist party while working for Burns and reported to the detective agency on communist meetings he attended.

Myers in response to Mr. Walsh's questioning, said Burns' men working on radical cases occasionally contributed funds to radical organizations, but said he was unable to estimate even approximately what those contributions totaled in any given year. The depositions here will be completed Monday morning with the cross-examination of Mr. Myers.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Feb. 17.—Search for the body of Miss Agnes Coote, a maid, who is believed to have died in a fire which destroyed Miss Myra A. Hall's boarding school for girls today will not be possible for several days until the ruins have cooled sufficiently. It was announced tonight.

The 67 boarding students, daughters of prominent families in various parts of the country, lost most of their belongings in the fire.

FRENCH RECOVERY

Gelsenkirchen, Feb. 17.—(By The Associated Press)—Gelsenkirchen was reprieved by the French today and the population was advised that public military proclamations that it would remain so until the fine of 100,000,000 marks was paid as indemnity for the recent wounding of French gendarmes in a clash with German police.

GERMANS BEGINNING ACTIVE RESISTANCE OF FRENCH IN RUHR

French Military Authorities Believe That Passive Resistance is at an End—Secret
Meetings Are Being Held in Essen—
French Are Ready for Any Emergency

(By The Associated Press)
ESSEN, Feb. 17.—The French military authorities in the Ruhr believe that the passive resistance of the Germans is at an end and that the work of obstruction is entering an active phase. They reached this conviction as a result of the bombing of the Keiserhof here, the sinking of barges in the Rhine-Herne canal and the activity of the nationalists, communists and other political parties during the past few days.

The French intelligence service has information to the effect that the populist party held a large secret meeting in Essen on Wednesday, the gathering being addressed by numerous speakers who urged active opposition to the French and Belgian measures. The speakers are said to have admitted that the policy of passive resistance inaugurated at the instigation of the Berlin government had failed.

The center party held a meeting at Muenster last night at which, according to the French intelligence agents, it was admitted that passive resistance had been unsuccessful and that the time for active resistance had come.

The secret visit to the Ruhr of Herr Stengel, German minister of post and telegraphs in defiance of the French orders against the entry of cabinet members has had a bracing effect on the strikers throughout the district, particularly those under ministry.

The French say they are ready for any emergency that may arise from the changed attitude of the Germans. As a further measure against outbreaks in Gelsenkirchen, the city was occupied today by French infantry, cavalry and armored cars. Meanwhile the work of eliminating the trouble makers continues and 53 officials were expelled from the Ruhr Thursday and yesterday for disregarding French instructions. The Oberburgmaster of Dortmund and his assistant, the chief of the railway station there and the district supervisor were among those arrested for disobedience.

The oberburgmaster of Duisburg, arrested by the Belgians on a similar charge, was tried by a Belgian court martial at Aix La Chapelle and sentenced to one month in prison and to pay the costs of the trial.

The situation in Essen is tense. The city is now policed by French troops as the German security police went on strike when their barracks was occupied. Many of them now are walking the streets in civilian clothes trying to maintain order but this only complicates the situation since the French are unable to recognize them out of uniform.

The modifications shown in the new print of the bill presented by Chairman Jones, represent compromises received by the champions of the measure and those senators who have been lukewarm toward it. The will be offered by Senator Jones with recommendations that the bill be adopted and are understood to have received the approval of President Harding and Chairman Lasker of the shipping board. Those in charge of the legislation in the senate said they were hopeful that the proposed alteration would draw support to the measure.

Foremost among the alterations is the inclusion of a section providing government aid shall not be paid ship operators with a view to any vessel other than a vessel purchased from the board after enactment of the pending act until after the board has held until vessels now in its possession amounting to a gross tonnage of 1,500,000 tons or a proportionately one-half its present holdings.

A proviso to this section provides that the board may contract to pay government aid to any owner for operation of a vessel otherwise qualified vessel "if the owner of such vessel shall submit to the enactment of the act purchase from the board vessel or vessels of a gross tonnage equal to or greater than the gross tonnage of the vessel with respect to which the contract compensation is made."

Estimates Payments
Senator Jones estimated that during the first two years of operation of the bill this section would lessen the government's payments by three to three and one-half million dollars. It is designed, it was said, to help about a speedy disposal of the shipping board's fleet.

A THOUGHT

Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.—2 Tim. 2:15.

The pleasure a man of honor enjoys in the consciousness of having performed his duty is a reward he pays himself for all his pains.—La Bruyere.

Only three more days remain for the filing of petitions in the city primary election. If you have a desire to serve your city in an official capacity, the opportunity is offered to learn what your fellow citizens think of your qualifications for that task.

The size of the vote cast in support of the government's plan for adjusting the British war debt again shows that there are times when partisanship can be set aside at Washington when the stake is high.

Mr. Hardy of Decatur is soon to hold a conference here with the city plan commission. No man in central Illinois has devoted more time and thought to this subject and he can properly qualify as an expert. The work of the city plan commission in Decatur has brought good results and the public has been brought to see that a city plan is the most desirable thing where growth is anticipated.

The Kansas supreme court has declared the soldiers' bonus bill in that state constitutional. The law there will require the expenditure of $25,000,000. In other states similar measures have been upheld and ex-service men are strong in the belief that the same situation will prevail when the Illinois court passes upon the act. Every effort was made to have the measure drawn in constitutional form before it was passed, and in addition courts are human and very often reflect the majority public opinion.

The resignation of Col. Forbes head of the veterans bureau, has been accepted. It was rumored two weeks ago when Colonel Forbes started on an European trip that he was really resigning. So much criticism has been leveled at the bureau president that his resignation seems the best course for all concerned.

Mrs. Lottie O'Neill, the only woman member of the Illinois legislature, is showing some independence and declines to be controlled by one organization of women voters. Mrs. O'Neill takes the sensible view that at times she can be of more service in advocating bills for the protection of women workers and for similar measures than she can by devoting her time in urging the passage of a law to make men and women of exact legal quality.

"Big Tim" Murphy, who was convicted nearly two years ago of complicity in the Chicago mail robbery and sentenced to six years in the penitentiary, has secured another stay of execution. This is about the third in the series of "stays" and "Big Tim" is still outside the prison doors. He seems to have an influence sufficient to keep him out. The history of his case furnishes ample testimony in support of those who declare that the dilatory methods of administering punishment for crime in the U. S. are shameful.

A measure introduced in the Illinois general assembly proposes a coal tax of 8 cents per ton, which it is estimated in Illinois would yield an annual revenue of about $62,000,000. This sounds like an easy way to increase the funds available for state uses, but as a matter of fact it such a law is passed the greater portion of the tax burden will be paid by residents of Illinois.

An additional disadvantage is found in the fact that such a tax would make it difficult for the Illinois mine operators to compete in other states. An anthracite tax was authorized in Pennsylvania but a large percentage of the coal is shipped out of the state, which accounts for the fact that there was not more vigorous protest from the Pennsylvanians.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

Two Ways of Seeing It

By Berton Braley

"We live on earth a little space,
And then we find our resting place."

"Our life is but a little span,
And death the destiny of man."

"We are but figures in a crowd,
Each one of whom will find a shroud."

"One thing is sure, one thing is clear, We'll lie at last upon a bier."

"If we be sad or we be merry,
Our paths lead to the cemetery."

"No matter how we behave,
The one thing certain—is the grave."

All right, all right! But why the gloom?
It's true we end up in a tomb."

Like all the folks who've gone before,
For fifteen million years or more."

Yet they got lots of labor done,
And had, all told, a lot of fun."

We can't remember whence we came,
That's true enough, but just the same."

We're here, a fact you must admit,
And why not make the best of it?"

GOLDEN IDOL

(N. E. A.)
In Grandpa's day, about the best possible compliment was "He's worth his weight in gold."

We still repeat it occasionally. Check this up and learn something concerning your real value.

About $45,000 worth of gold weighs as much as the average American. Four per cent interest on $45,000 is $1,800 a year.

So any one earning $1,800 a year is worth his weight in gold.

The man with an income of $3,600 a year is worth twice his weight in gold. And so on upward—or downward.

Your earning power represents the interest on that intangible value, yourself.

Of course, it's rather futile to try to put an individual's value on a money basis, the most people do. The scientist who isolates a disease germ and learns how to check its slaughter of human lives is worth, to humanity, more than all the gold in existence.

So with inventors, far-sighted organizers and people who by their daily example spread the contagion of common honesty and the brotherhood of man.

Another old-time expression is "Pure as gold." It doesn't mean as much as most of us believe.

Gold 100 percent pure can be seen in the chemist's laboratory. But it is rarely used in such pure form commercially.

In most American-made jewelry, the gold is only 99 per cent of the metal and the rest is alloy.

About the purest form of gold that the average person ever sees is a wedding ring, nine-tenths gold, only a tenth alloy.

However, it doesn't make much difference, as long as we believe that we are "sporting" pure gold. The value of gold is largely imaginary. Isn't that true of all other values, barring actual necessities?

About 45 out of every 100 pounds of gold hoarded for money purposes in the whole world now is in the United States. American gold hoardings by early spring, probably will exceed four billion dollars.

A considerable part of this huge amount is with us only temporarily. As the years slip by, a lot of it will flow back where it was before the war and where it belongs in any well-balanced system of international economies. Level-headed economists caution that it would be unwise to use any part of our gold stock which may not be here permanently, as a basis for expansion of credits to foreign countries. The bankers will attend to that while the rest of us look on in awe.

Gold. Gold. It is the world-wide lure, from savage jungle to Wall Street. Gold is hypnotic, to the extent that most of us would rather find a nugget of gold than anything else. You have this illustrated in the thrill that comes when you find any kind of gold-value money, even a dime. A man finding a few coins will stop and search for more, tho his time may be worth $10 an hour.

SANDERS FARMS SOLD AT AUCTION SATURDAY

Seven Hundred and Twelve Acres Brought Total of $107,512

An extensive acreage of land included in the Charles Sanders estate in Concord precinct was sold at auction Saturday afternoon. The several farms making up a total of 712 acres, were purchased by James Sanders, and it is understood that one or two other heirs are interested with him. The purchase price was $107,512, which means an average of $151 an acre.

In this total there are four farms with improvements, one unimproved tract and two pieces of timber land. One of the farms adjoins Concord and another is located but half a mile east. The properties were first sold separately, the highest price in the bids being $201. Then the holdings were offered in one lot. Merle Beddingfield was the auctioneer and Walter W. Wright the attorney for the estate.

These lands were years ago the property of John J. and Charles Sanders. At the death of John J., who was unmarried, he bequeathed a life interest to his brother, Charles, with the provision that at the death of Charles the title should pass to his wife, and at her death the property should be sold and distribution made among the heirs of Charles Sanders.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OBSERVANCE POSTPONED

Mention was made several days since of the plans which were being made for the observance of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Rawlings. The affair was to have taken place at Darbin church next Tuesday, but it has been postponed indefinitely because Mr. and Mrs. Rawlings are unable to come at this time.

The aged couple, former residents of Morgan county were enroute from there home in the west. They stopped for a visit at the home of a relative of Mrs. Rawlings and the latter had the misfortune to fall and is now confined to her bed as a result. Announcement has been made that William F. Hardy, editor of the Decatur Herald, and president of the Decatur City Plan Commission will speak in this city on Wednesday evening, Feb. 21. He will address the local Plan Commission at a dinner to be given at the Peacock Inn.

The plan to secure Mr. Hardy for such an address is a part of a larger plan of education for the local commission. It is hoped to bring others who have had long and useful experience in city planning to this city for a discussion of the matters pertaining to the work of the commission. It will be remembered that Mr. Hardy came to this city for a forum address on the city plan before the adoption of the commission ordinance by the city council. However many who are now members of the commission did not hear the Decatur chairman at that time. The time of the dinner meeting Wednesday evening will be 6:15.

The Fiction Sensation of the Year

It has caused more comment than any other book published during the current season, and it is unanimously conceded by the critics to be the greatest story ever written about the modern flapper.

"The Beautiful and Damned"

with Marie Prevost, Kenneth Harten and an All-Star Cast

Adapted from F. Scott Fitzgerald's Popular Novel

Gloria was beautiful—but it was the vain, proud beauty of the peacock—and Anthony was damned. Not so much by his own actions as by his environment and expectations. Each had a problem to solve, and the solution forms the foundation of one of the greatest stories of life as it is lived today.

A vivid, fascinating picture revealing with devastating satire a section of American society which has never before been recognized as an entity. Flappers of both sexes, revealed, analyzed and cross-sectioned in microscopic detail through the powerful photoplay.

K. C. OFFERS REWARD FOR OATH CIRCULATORS

Well Known Catholic Organization Pursuing Policy to Refute Propaganda Issued Against Organization.

WASHINGTON—An aggressive campaign to oppose the organized propaganda directed primarily against the Knights of Columbus, has been launched by the K. of C., according to a statement by Supreme Advocate Luke E. Hart of St. Louis.

"This campaign," said Mr. Hart, "is purely a defensive act to further the cause of harmony between all citizens of the country, of whatever religious denomination. It is a fact that a violent wave of religious prejudice is sweeping the country."

"Since the infamous oath falsely attributed to the fourth degree membership of the Knights of Columbus first made its appearance, there has been no more vigorous circulation of this oath in different parts of the country than there is today. On the face of it the fake oath is an insult to the intelligence of even the average prejudiced person. It is a fantastic concoction of the worst things in Eugene Sue and other writers of diseased fiction.

Rewards Offered.

"So widespread is the circulation of this foolish and malicious document that Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty and the Knights of Columbus supreme board of directors have been led to take drastic measures to check its circulation. For the first time we have offered substantial monetary rewards to anybody who can prove that the alleged oath is part of any authentic ceremony of the Knights of Columbus. Five separate deposits of $5,000 have been made in five Texas banks, each $5,000 payable to anybody who, within sixty days, can deliver proof to unbiased judges that this alleged oath is genuine."

"The order is not only thus challenging its villainy; but as Supreme Advocate, acting by direction of the Supreme Knight, it is my duty to initiate prosecution of persons against whom evidence has been secured that they are circulators of the bogus oath. One of these persons was recently convicted in Texas for this criminal libel, and at the instance of Supreme Knight Davis P. Sullivan another was recently convicted in San Francisco. Suits will be entered at the earliest possible moment against printers and publishers of the bogus oath in certain other cities throughout the United States."

"So regularly is this oath revived that it would appear to be a flourishing industry. Copies of the oath, the evidence shows, are retailed for ten cents each, and sold in job lots at varying prices. The root of the evil goes back to the time when the bogus oath was used against a Catholic in a Pennsylvania political campaign, subsequent congressional investigation of the campaign resulting in the oath being printed in the Congressional Record. Now copy of it contains the legend from the Congressional Record, which to the uninformed or untelligent, gives the spurious document an air of genuineness. The alleged oath was simply an exhibit of evidence in the congressional investigation."

"We do not hesitate to call upon every member of the order, upon every Catholic and upon every broad minded fellow-citizen, no matter what his religious denomination, to aid us in running down the circulators of this malign libel. In several test cases the circulation of this oath has been demonstrated to be criminal libel, conviction carrying with it sentence of fine and imprisonment. In the past, the Knights of Columbus have been satisfied to obtain conviction of the culprit or culprits involved and then to ask mercy for the convicted. But this clemency appears to have failed in its object of demonstrating that the Knights of Columbus were not animated by a vengeful spirit but merely desired to establish, by jury trial, the justice of their cause."

"We shall rigorously follow up whatever clues we receive showing publication of the oath, for we are determined, as far as the law of the land enables us to do so, to stamp out this pernicious propaganda which threatens the social peace of the Republic."

DR. DAVIS IS FINAL CONFERENCE SPEAKER

Seminary Head Delivers Impressive Message to Congregational Young People—Talks on Choice of a Life Work.

Dr. Ozzar S. Davis of the Chicago Theological Seminary delivered an impressive closing message at the final session of the Young People's conference at the Congregational church last night. The delegates and friends had supper together, followed by a devotional hour. Then Dr. Davis spoke on "Choosing a Life Work."

Six points make up the steps by which a young man or woman, according to Dr. Davis, should select his life work. The tastes of the individual were mentioned first. What do you like to do? Much depends on whether a person likes the work he or she has chosen, or whether it is considered a mere drudgery.

In the second place the speaker put training. What have you been fitting yourself to do? Many a young person has taken years of training, and then followed a life course far different than his study indicated he would take.

The third point was Advice. What do your friends say for you to do? The speaker cautioned his hearers not to ask this advice from everyone; but to select those in whom they had confidence. The seeker of advice on a life work should not go to his friend with a preconceived idea of what he is going to do.

The fourth point discussed was the lead of the individual's life. What does your past tell you to do? This of course takes into account inherited gifts and talents.

In the fifth place Dr. Davis emphasized the Need. He spelled this word in capital letters, as being the most important of all. In the other points only the individual himself was considered, but the need takes in others. What cries out to you to do? The man who pays no attention to this cry when it comes to him will regret it all his life.

The last point emphasized the Urge. What does your heart say for you to do? The speaker had the undivided attention of his hearers throughout the address.

JANE NOVAK

Thelma Guldmar, a beautiful girl, lived in a Norwegian peasant village. Dyceworthy, a remittance man, and Sigurd, a dwarf, were very fond of her. The former's feelings toward Thelma were of ulterior design. The dwarf loved her as a dog loves its master. Lovissa, an old hag, bore an intense hatred for Thelma and accused her of being a witch. She tried to secure Dyceworthy's assistance in getting Britta, a granddaughter, away from Thelma's home where she persisted in staying. In the meantime, Sir Philip Errington, a young bachelor in London, was the object of Lady Clara Winsleigh, a selfish, pleasure-seeking butterfly. When she called at Errington's home she brazenly protested her love for Sir Philip. Her foolishness was responsible for Sir Philip and his friend, Philip Lorimer, sailing for Norway where they met Thelma while climbing a mountain. Both men fell madly in love with the Norwegian beauty. Then followed developments of fine romance and strong drama that will grip the interest of every man, woman and child who sees this famous tale of Marie Corelli's pictured upon the screen.

BONUS MEASURE IN SUPREME COURT

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 17.—The Illinois Soldier bonus case was in the hands of the state supreme court tonight following arguments this afternoon.

Hearing of the case was postponed from yesterday.

The court gave no indication as to whether a decision would be reached this term, ending next Tuesday or Wednesday. Albert D. Rodenburg, assistant attorney general, who argued the case for the state, called the court's attention to the great amount of work imposed by the law on the recognition board and requested an early decision. The only reply was that the court would take the case under advisement.

Howard C. Knotts, commander of Sangamon county Post American Legion, assisted Mr. Rodenburg, while Noah C. Balmun presented arguments for the complainants.

WOMEN WILL COME BACK TO SERVICE

Those Who Served on Firing Line During War Will Serve on the Firing Line of Service—Just Awakened to Fact That Are Needed More Than During War.

BLOOMINGTON—Women of Illinois and America, who served on "the home firing line" during the world war, are to come back on the "firing line of service," according to word conveyed the Illinois department of the American Legion by Mrs. E. P. Sloan of Bloomington, representative of the seventeenth district, Federation of Women's clubs.

"Women of America owe the American Legion an apology," Mrs. Sloan told Department Commander Charles W. Schick of the Legion and Mrs. J. C. Clothier, department president of the Legion Auxiliary.

She declared that women had just awakened to the fact that their services were needed more now, after the war, even than they were needed during the war.

Speaking on behalf of the club women of her section of the state, Mrs. Sloan announced the formation of an organization called The Friendly Co-operators.

Former service men, in aim is to give those women who are not eligible to membership in the Legion auxiliary, an opportunity to serve the former soldiers in need.

"We didn't realize that the aftermath of the war would be more hideous for some of our boys than the war itself," said Mrs. Sloan. "It was difficult to convince women en masse of the necessity for resuming the making of comfort kits and recreational supplies. But we have been re-converted and re-dedicated to the task for us."

"We have heard of the tragic need for hospitalization and accessories care of our wounded and disabled."

"And we have come back! All over this land today under the banner 'Friendly Cooperation with Ex-Service Men,' we are back in line serving as local needs dictate. We realize the efficient work being done by existing organizations, such as the woman's auxiliary, and we especially desire to avoid duplication of organization. So, we have made our plan of work elastic enough to adjust itself to their plans. We prefer to be cooperators rather than initiators."

"We have begun where the need is most obvious—in our hospitals. We will make it our aim this year to locate and personally administer to every soldier from our district who is in a hospital. At the same time we are, under the direction of the hospital's Red Cross agents, doing our part as friends to the thousands of boys drifting thru the hospitals without hope and without homes."

ST. LOUIS BUSINESS INCREASES

The largest items were: Boots and shoes $190,000,000; Dry goods $132,000,000; Groceries $120,750,000; and Lumber $110,000,000.

sion but after all amendments had been disposed of it was apparent that a quorum was not present and adjournment was taken until Monday without a final vote on the measure.

Several changes were made in the bill as it came from the committee the most important being the elimination, on motion of Representative Anderson of the section which would have authorized loans to farmers thru agencies whenever it appeared to the federal farm loan board that farm loan associations had not been formed or the local national farm loan associations neglected or refused to serve properly the needs of its territory in any locality.

Mr. Anderson said it was not wise to "have agents running around so hounding loans," and the house agreed with him, 76 to 40.

As it now stands the bill would increase the maximum of farm bank loans from $10,000 to any individual borrow to $16,000, with an added provision that in special cases and on approval of the farm loan board the maximum might be increased to $25,000.

For domestic help

It's only fair that your domestic help should have a sanitary bathroom of their own. You'll easily think of many other good reasons why their bathing and toilet facilities should be separate from your family's bathroom. If need be, the additional bathroom can be built in an alcove, a large closet, or in any space five feet square. It can be fully equipped at a moderate cost.

WOMEN WILL COME BACK TO SERVICE

Those Who Served on Firing Line During War Will Serve on the Firing Line of Service—Just Awakened to Fact That Are Needed More Than During War.

BLOOMINGTON—Women of Illinois and America, who served on "the home firing line" during the world war, are to come back on the "firing line of service," according to word conveyed the Illinois department of the American Legion by Mrs. E. P. Sloan of Bloomington, representative of the seventeenth district, Federation of Women's clubs.

"Women of America owe the American Legion an apology," Mrs. Sloan told Department Commander Charles W. Schick of the Legion and Mrs. J. C. Clothier, department president of the Legion Auxiliary.

She declared that women had just awakened to the fact that their services were needed more now, after the war, even than they were needed during the war.

Speaking on behalf of the club women of her section of the state, Mrs. Sloan announced the formation of an organization called The Friendly Co-operators.

Former service men, in aim is to give those women who are not eligible to membership in the Legion auxiliary, an opportunity to serve the former soldiers in need.

"We didn't realize that the aftermath of the war would be more hideous for some of our boys than the war itself," said Mrs. Sloan. "It was difficult to convince women en masse of the necessity for resuming the making of comfort kits and recreational supplies. But we have been re-converted and re-dedicated to the task for us."

"We have heard of the tragic need for hospitalization and accessories care of our wounded and disabled."

"And we have come back! All over this land today under the banner 'Friendly Cooperation with Ex-Service Men,' we are back in line serving as local needs dictate. We realize the efficient work being done by existing organizations, such as the woman's auxiliary, and we especially desire to avoid duplication of organization. So, we have made our plan of work elastic enough to adjust itself to their plans. We prefer to be cooperators rather than initiators."

"We have begun where the need is most obvious—in our hospitals. We will make it our aim this year to locate and personally administer to every soldier from our district who is in a hospital. At the same time we are, under the direction of the hospital's Red Cross agents, doing our part as friends to the thousands of boys drifting thru the hospitals without hope and without homes."

CLOTHIERS HAD BEST CONVENTION EVER

Attendance Record Broken at Recent Meeting of Illinois Association In Chicago—T. M. Tomlinson and Associate Officers Made Fine Record.

Jacksonville clothiers who attended the convention of the Illinois Retail Clothiers association in Chicago have returned home, the group including T. M. Tomlinson and son, Edward; Henry Frisch, J. C. and George Lukeman.

T. M. Tomlinson is the retiring president of the organization and declined re-election because of the time the work of the office demands. During Mr. Tomlinson's presidency the membership of the association has doubled and the record of a very successful year has been written. The convention was the most largely attended in the history of the association.

The convention in various ways recorded appreciation of Mr. Tomlinson's work and as a token of this appreciation presented him with a travelers' clock in an engraved silver case.

Chicago papers carried interviews with Mr. Tomlinson with views of him and other officers of the association and the Jacksonville man is quoted in a number of both city and trade papers. In his annual address he voiced opposition to rising apparel prices stating that such increases are unfair to farmers, who are not receiving satisfactory prices for their products.

Other statements made by Mr. Tomlinson are indicated in the following paragraphs:

"When the manufacturer is urging the retailer to tell his customers that they must pay from $3 to $5 more for a suit of clothes, he is putting a responsibility on the merchant who must pass it on to the consumer with the result that we may be confronted with another buyers' strike, and we cannot afford to have this thing happen when we are just beginning to get back to normal."

"The proposed increase in clothing prices for the fall season will not be met with approval in the farming communities because merchants there will have a hard time to convince their farmer friends that they should pay more for their clothes when they are not getting a sufficient return on what they raise to supply any proposed advance in price." He suggested that the Illinois merchant prepare themselves to meet the consumer's resistance to the advance in prices by obtaining the information available in the trade journals and magazines.

Deplores Selling Direct. Another growing evil, not only in the clothing business, but in every other line, declared Mr. Tomlinson, is the selling at retail by the wholesaler. This buying at wholesale of merchandise that should be sold by a retailer is assuming such large proportions, he asserted, that the average merchant is beginning to realize that if the practice is not checked it will result in the demoralization of the retail business.

Strict adherence to the truth in advertising was one of Mr. Tomlinson's practical suggestions. We should not try to deceive the public with startling facts and false values he said, and in "Truth In Advertising" as well as "Truth In Fact," merchants will do much to make the clothing business a real service to the community.

While in Chicago Edward Tomlinson attended a meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Sherman House, with his father as a guest. The address that day was made by the sole survivor of the convention which first nominated Abraham Lincoln for the presidency.

The sport page of the Times makes this reference to Mr. Lathrop:

"J. C. Lathrop, one of the Sunshine City's roque annuals arrived on Thursday morning and is in capital fettle for his engagement here. Mr. Lathrop plays beautiful roque—his technique is always attractive and swift in delivery and he's here to take everything in sight—and it goes without saying that Chess will have a delightful outing as he always does."

Billy Evans Says

WHO will handle the speedy shoots of Walter Johnson during the coming season?
The recent trade between Washington and Boston of the American League which involved the transfer of Val Picinich deprives Johnson of his battery mate.
Since joining the Washington club three catchers have done practically all the receiving for the speedball king, Charley Street, Eddie Ainsmith and Val Picinich.
Walter Johnson and Charley Street was the first battery to feature the famous Washington pitcher. As a matter of fact, much of Walter's early success was due to excellent handling on the part of Street.
I once asked Walter Johnson if his pitching was affected to a certain extent by his catcher, and he frankly admitted that proper catching played a most important part in his success as a pitcher. He then proceeded to pay Street a nice compliment:
"I never expect to pitch to a better catcher than 'Gabby' Street," said Johnson. "He certainly was a wonder. I never gave a thought as to a wild pitch with him doing the catching. I always felt that he would get the ball no matter where I threw it. And then there was the question of base runners. No matter how big a lead I gave the runners, Street somehow always flagged them at second. He threw strikes to that base. I never was able to pitch too fast to suit him. I can smile now when I think of him. When I was putting every ounce of energy back of the ball he would be grabbing in that southern drawl of his:
"Come on, Walter, put something on the ball. Your arm must be sore."

With the passing of Street, Eddie Ainsmith became Johnson's battery partner. It is a rather peculiar fact that the catchers who have acted as Johnson's partners, with the exception of Street, have confined their efforts almost entirely to handling Johnson.
It is also an interesting fact that other catchers rated as star performers never met with much success in catching Johnson's shoots. I have in mind John Henry and Eddie Garrity.

Henry was with Washington at the same time as Ainsmith. Henry caught practically every other pitcher. A number of times he essayed working with Johnson when Ainsmith was injured, but never did very well. I regard Eddie Garrity, as one of the best catchers in baseball, yet Eddie doesn't have much success handling Walter. There really is no explanation. It just so happens.

Now that Picinich has passed out of the picture, Walter will draw a new catcher. Muddy Ruel, acquired by Washington in the Boston deal, will probably be assigned to the job. Ruel likes speed, so he ought to be right at home with Johnson.

GILL MUST BUILD NEW TRACK TEAM

URBANA, Ill.—University of Illinois track hopes rest on the development of new stars by Coach Harry Gill before the important Big Ten meets. The conference champions face Notre Dame in the seventh annual indoor dual match between the two institutions weakened by the loss of many stalwart runners and jumpers.
The graduation of twelve crack athletes, including the quartet of milers who broke the world mark in the four mile relay at Drake last year is a severe blow to the Indians' outlook for 1923. Fortunately the discovery of M. E. Hall, a sophomore half-miler of promise has given Coach Gill a better chance to defeat Rockne's Catholics Saturday at South Bend.
Marzala, a second-year man, appears to be a two-miler who can be brought out under Coach Gill's skillful tutelage. At present he runs the distance about 10:05, which is much slower than his best time of former seasons.
Johnny Koonz of Winnetka is a quarter-miler who will run his first varsity races this season. Koonz is slated for a berth on the new one-mile relay team.
There are a number of other sophomores who may develop as the season progresses. "Dutch" Schildhauer of New Holstein, Wisconsin is a likely looking shot-putter. Dean Brownell of Champaign has pole-vaulted 12 feet. George Chandler has been graduated and the Illini must look to Brownell in the pole vault. Marsh Sweeney of Chicago, broad-jumper who has cleared 25 feet, will add strength in an event where it is needed since the departure of Harold Osborne. Other new men in the Notre Dame meet are "Soc" Platto, and Hal Sharp in the dashes.
Russell Scott, distance runner, will probably not compete against Notre Dame.
The Catholic outfit will be without the services of Gus Desch who holds the world's record in the 440-yard low hurdles. But Rockne sends word that Desch will compete in the indoor relays on March 3.
Coach Gill has been sending his quarter-milers thru practice in handling the baton, looking ahead to the relays as well as to Saturday's meet, and giving the dashmen heavy workouts.

Chapman and Blakeman showed best for Manchester, Blakeman getting a total of 15 points. For White Hall Knight was the bright star, getting 8 of the 12 points. After the game Manchester high school which as yet had not entered the district tournament sent in its request by telegram and it is still in doubt if they will be successful in being entered. If the right kind of an answer comes and Manchester is successfully entered they should give their opponents something to think about.

JACKSONVILLE IS NOSED OUT AGAIN

Defeated by Granite City by Margin of One Point—Final Score is 23 to 22.

Jacksonville high was nosed out again by one point in the game with Granite City in David Prince gymnasium Saturday night.
This has been the case with the local tossers frequently this season as they have not seemed able to carry enough punch to overcome that one point lead.
The game last night was a pretty one to watch as both teams did some excellent team work and at times some good shooting. However, the poor shooting overbalanced the good. This was especially true of the Jacksonville players.
The score at the half time period was 16 to 13 in favor of Granite City. At the beginning of the second half Jacksonville overcame this lead and finally worked into a tie. Then first one team and then the other forged to the front.
During this time Granite City kept in the running by some phenomenal field baskets from the middle of the floor. A majority of the locals points were made by the free throw route in the second half.
It was the inability of the local tossers to hit the basket with easy shots that spelled defeat in the second half. Time and again the red and white shooters had easy chances only to miss the basket. Laying aside these poor efforts Jacksonville should have won the game on free throws. With the score one point in favor of Granite City, two free throws were missed in succession. These two throws would have given Jacksonville the game by a one point margin.
Granite City presented a well balanced team which played a speedy game and never quit fighting for one minute. They were hard to stop when they got the ball and only brilliant work by Hopper and Hunt prevented them from scoring more field goals.
The score:
Granite City F.G. F.T. Tls.

CT TO SEND STRONG TEAM

YORK, Feb. 17.—Obstacles appeared in the way of America's amateur team for the invasion of this year rapidly are disappearing. It was indicated today by the United States Golf association and present prospects of the formation of an all-star team for both the amateur and professional cup matches and the amateur championship.

At A. Gardner of Chicago, national champion, it was announced that he had accepted the captaincy of the American team and already begun organizing his forces. There is doubt as to whether Gardner will be able to make the overseas and should he drop out, it is likely Francis Ouimet, Boston star, will be asked to take charge of the squad.

One of the victors in individual matches of last year's Walker cup competition, the United States defeated Britain eight matches to five as being runner up in the amateur title event of 1922.

Players will be selected for the team. Practically no assurance has been given of the outstanding stars—Jesse Sweetzer of national champion and Bobbes, of Atlanta, and Harrell, who will be able to obtain of absence. Ouimet, Jesse of Boston and S. Davidson of Chicago all former titleholders are counted on to join the invaders and likely candidates include Rudolph Knepper of Princeton and Harrison Johnston of St. Paul.

SEASON OF 1923 SHOULD BE BIG ONE FOR RECRUITS

By NEA Service.

Third base appears to be the most unsettled position in the American League.

Of the eight clubs, Joe Dugan of the New York Yankees is the only player who has his position cinched.

In the east, Boston and Washington are both shy third sackers. A half dozen athletes played the difficult corner at Washington last season. Practically as many essayed to fill the bill at Boston.

Connie Mack will have as his one best bet for third, Sammie Hale, the much-sought Coast League star. Hale will displace Jimmy Dykes at third, the latter moving over to second.

In the west, Cleveland must develop a man to replace the fast slipping Gardner. At Detroit it will be either Jones or Haney. St. Louis would welcome a star-third sacker. Frank Ellerbe's weak knee makes his play questionable, while Eddie Foster cannot stand the strain or regular work.

Willie Kamm, the $100,000 beauty from the San Francisco team of the Coast League, is expected to be a fixture at third for the White Sox. Kamm is said to be a wonderful field and a fair hitter.

Never was the American League quite so weak at third base as at the present time. Dugan at New York is a certainty. Kamm and Hale, highly touted recruits, are expected to develop for Chicago and Philadelphia, while third base on the other five teams is very much open.

The season of 1923 will be a great year for recruits with the proper stuff. Fast-aging veterans will make them eligible on many a major league club.

CONNIE MACK CAN THANK SON EARL FOR ED ROMMEL

By NEA Service.

NEWARK, N. J. — Connie Mack can thank his son, Earl, for acquiring the services of Eddie Rommel, the pitching sensation of the American League last year.

While it isn't generally known, by fandom, Rommel was once the property of the New York Giants and was given the thumbs down by John McGraw.

Rommel, in 1918, had a pretty good year with Newark in the International League. He was purchased by the Giants in an optional deal.

Before the opening of the 1919 season the deal was called off and Rommel reverted to Newark.

Earl Mack, son of Connie managed Newark this year. He confided to his dad that Rommel was the most promising youngster in the circuit.

On the recommendation of his son, Connie bought Rommel and he developed him into one of the best pitchers in the majors.

CHANCE FIGURES SOX GOT BEST OF YANKEE DEAL

By NEA Service.

BOSTON. — Manager Frank Chance of the Red Sox has positively announced that "Lefty" O'Doul will get his cherished wish, a chance to make good as a pitcher.

Carried for three or four years by the Yankees, with the exception of a year spent in the Coast League, O'Doul has been a bench warmer practically all the time.

His great work on the coast, where he won 25 ball games, caused the Yanks to bring him back to the big show. He was counted on as having finally arrived. A bad start caused him to be again relegated to the bench.

O'Doul is fast and can hit, and was used in the outfield a few times by New York. However, he expressed a desire to get a chance to pitch when the deal with Boston was made and he is to get it.

"Pennock will help the Yanks," says Chance, "he is a steady pitcher who should win many games with a strong club like New York."

"I wanted McMillan for third, that is why I permitted Pennock to get away. In addition I am told that O'Doul has a great deal more stuff and only needs the opportunity to make good."

He is going to get it. He will either be a star or a flivver at the close of the season because he will be much used."

CHOOSE BREEDING STOCK FOR NEXT YEAR

URBANA, ILL.—The time to choose the breeding stock for next year's crop of young chicks is drawing near and poultry raisers should see that they are vigorous and healthy, deep and full-bodied with broad backs, declares L. E. Card, head of the poultry department of the University of Illinois.

"Every chicken has a right to a fair start by being well hatched," says his statement. "It usually will be worth while to have a small breeding pen, perhaps ten hens and a rooster, especially selected for the characters that are desirable in next year's laying flock. There is a definite money value in producing a flock that is uniform in type and color."

"Select rather deep full-bodied birds with broad backs, as they possess an adequate capacity to utilize food. They should have sufficient heavy bone and a clear eye. If two or more breeding pens are used, mark the chicks so they can later be distinguished. It is the only way the more desirable breeders can be located."

Most of the luxuries are three or four times as expensive here as in London and Paris. This dealers say, is due to the government monopoly on goods from abroad which keeps prices so high that the smuggling business is paying handsomely to those engaged in it.

RESIDENT OF OTHER YEARS WRITES OF CITY

Frederick L. Fishback of Washington Still Has Warm Place in His Heart for Jacksonville.

Frederick L. Fishback of Washington, D. C., in a recent letter to Mayor Crabtree, recalls the earlier years when he was a resident of this city. Mr. Fishback, who is now an attorney with offices in the Union Trust Building in Washington, is a son of Dr. Fishback, who lived in this city many years ago.

In his letter Mr. Fishback said: "I was born on West State street June 9, 1869, in the little house which Dr. P. L. Brown owned until recent years, directly opposite the court house. My father was James Fishback and when collector of internal revenue in Jacksonville he had his offices over the First National Bank."

Mr. Ensey Moore, who is doing so much to inform the present residents of Jacksonville of the olden days, recently had an interesting article about that building. The only home that I actually remember in Jacksonville was on South Church street just beyond the brook.

I attended Dr. Glover's Presbyterian church and Sunday school. The church was then on the south east corner of West State and South West streets. In addition, I attended Sunday school at Grace church, and it was in those days that Dr. P. G. Gillett was in charge of the Sunday school."

Then Mr. Fishback refers to the recent burning of the Brown's block and recalls the fact that as a child he took part in a school entertainment there. He mentions the recollection too of the funeral of Dr. Governor Richard Yates, which was held in that building.

The writer goes on to tell of his father's home and describes his father as a man six feet, two and a half inches tall and weighing 230 pounds.

The letter also mentions Joseph Shreve and others who were friends of his boyhood days.

In addition to the practice of law Mr. Fishback spends some time in platform work and recently gave an illustrated lecture in Chicago on the city of Washington. Referring to this fact, he writes:

Quotes Goldsmith
"I have come to love Washington as my home and because it is the nation's capital, but in connection with Jacksonville often think of the lines of Goldsmith: In all my wanderings round this world of care, In all my griefs—and God has given my share, I still had hopes, my latest hours to crown."

Amidst these humble bowers to lay me down; To husband out life's taper at the close, And keep the flame wasting by repose."

I still had hopes—for pride attends us still— Amidst the swains to show my book-learned skill, Around my fire an evening group to draw, And tell of all I felt, and all I saw."

And, as a hare, whom hounds and horns pursue, Pants to the place whence at first she flew, I still had hopes, my long vexations past, Here to return,—and die at home at last."

The quotation certainly indicates that even thru the long years Mr. Fishback still has a very warm place in his heart for the city of his birth.

MOSCOW RIOTS TO FLUFFY LINGERIE

MOSCOW.—Moscow is rapidly assuming some of its old time splendor in the shopping district so far as the stores are concerned it is becoming normal.

The most expensive French and German perfumes, toilet articles, lingerie and other luxuries, after an absence of many years, are again on sale in Moscow, Petrograd and some of the other Russian cities. While the greater part of these goods, according to officials, have been smuggled into the country, nevertheless they are sold openly as in pre-revolutionary days, but at enormous prices. Government officials, while aware of the smuggling, say they are powerless to break it up.

When the first fluffy, lace trimmed garments from abroad appeared in the display windows of the Moscow shops the incident nearly caused a riot. Men, women and children were wildly eager to get a peek at the things from the outer world. They had seen nothing of the kind for seven or eight years and fought for a place in the mob for a few minutes gaze at the finery.

Most of the luxuries are three or four times as expensive here as in London and Paris. This dealers say, is due to the government monopoly on goods from abroad which keeps prices so high that the smuggling business is paying handsomely to those engaged in it.

ELKS' MALE CHORUS TO APPEAR MARCH 27

Chicago Soloist Will Star in Musical Organization Now Preparing to Give Concert in City — Arnold Lovejoy is Director of New Chorus of Forty Voices.

Miss Fern Patton, soprano, Chicago, will appear in this city as soloist with the Elks' male chorus in their concert March 27. Miss Patton in addition to appearing as soloist will also sing with the chorus in several numbers. Later Miss Patton will go on tour with the chorus and act as soloist in a series of engagements in neighboring cities which are being arranged at the present time.

Director Arnold P. Lovejoy made this announcement yesterday and also stated that the chorus chosen exclusively of male voices which has for the past six months been rehearsing under his supervision, are now rapidly rounding into shape as a very unique singing organization. The organization of the chorus has been so perfected that it will remain a permanent one and function several times each year both in local concerts and in outside engagements. It has been organized for the purpose of furnishing all music lovers the most artistic programs and concerts and formation of good choral numbers.

The organization has turned over all of their funds to be raised from this series of entertainments toward completion of the ladies department of the Elks' home.

The program given by the chorus will consist of well chosen male arrangements from standard composers and also several unique and stage effects will be produced. There will be musical readings with chorus accompaniment, humorous numbers with plenty of action and splendidly arranged numbers from one of the operas and also the light operas. Special stage effects will be shown making the entire program of varied interest.

The concert of the Elks' male chorus will be held on the evening of March 27, at the high school auditorium. Following the concert, the members of the chorus and their lady friends will be tendered a dance at the Elks' club. The chorus is practicing faithfully every night, and the results of their training are calculated to delight the music lovers of Jacksonville.

An extensive concert tour is being planned. It is expected to book engagements at Beards-town, Springfield and many other towns and cities within a radius of fifty miles of Jacksonville.

BOARD SIGNS GOOD FREE ACTS FOR FAIR

Musical Comedy for Night Show — Entertainment for Children and Other Features Provided in Contracts Made Saturday by Directors of Morgan County Fair.

A number of free attractions for the 1923 Morgan county fair were signed up by the executive board of the fair association at a lengthy meeting Saturday afternoon at the Chamber of Commerce. The attractions were purchased from the Rosenthal's Amusement Co., of Dubuque, Iowa.

The main free act will be a musical revue for the evening entertainment. This is a fully equipped musical comedy with a cast of about twenty-five people. The company carries its own scenery, drops, costumes and lighting effects, and will give popular musical comedies every evening during the fair. This is a new feature in fair attractions, and will no doubt prove a great drawing card for evening visitors to the fair grounds.

In providing the free entertainment, the directors did not forget the children and signed a contract for the Rosenthal's dog show, which will appear in the afternoon and evening. Fifteen or twenty dogs will do all sorts of stunts, making the usual high dives, dances and acrobatic feats. In the afternoon some of the girls from the musical revue will furnish solos and dances for entertainment between the races.

The free thriller is provided by Ordell who will do what is known as the "Sailor Perch" act. He climbs a tall pole and performs various acrobatic feats at the top. He will be seen in both the afternoon and evening of every day at the fair.

It required several hours of discussion for the board to reach a decision in regard to the free attractions. The entertainment concessions, such as rides, shows, etc., have not yet been secured, though several companies are bidding for the contracts.

AT THE GRAND

MONDAY NIGHT
A well-known foreign scientist recently made the announcement that he had invented a certain medicine which, if taken in the shape of a pill, will transform a man into a woman and vice versa. Whether this be true or not, the idea has been successfully incorporated in the latest musical comedy triumph, "Mutt and Jeff's Honeymoon," which will be the next attraction at the Grand Theatre, Monday, Feb. 19. The exploitation of this unique discovery has been left to our old friends and heroes, Mutt and Jeff, who endeavor to practice the theory with, as might be expected, hilarious results. A large and competent cast has been engaged and from all accounts, the pinnacle of real American entertainment has been reached.

STATE HIGHWAY BODY BACKS KIWANIS PLAN

Approves Project of Club to Plant Trees Along Hard Road — Property Owners Agree Heartily to Request of Committee — One Thousand Trees to Go Out This Year.

The state highway department has approved the plan of the local Kiwanis club to plant trees along the south side of the hard road from the city limits east to the county line. The approval of the state officials was obtained by E. W. P. Duncan chairman of the Kiwanis committee on public affairs, who made a personal visit to Springfield to see about the matter.

However, the highway officials suggested that the club obtain the consent of the property owners along the route and for the past two days Dr. Duncan and other members of the committee have been busy at this task. All property owners interviewed thus far, except one, have given their hearty consent that trees should be planted along the road bordering their land.

It remains only for the club to approve the work done by the committee to make the planting of trees certain. It is intended to plant one thousand elm saplings this year. They will be set about forty feet apart, and will be from three to four feet in height.

An organization of club members is to be perfected, so that the work of planting the thousand trees may all be completed in a single day, the members doing all the work of setting out the trees. The public affairs committee, and especially the chairman, Dr. Duncan, have entered into the project with the greatest enthusiasm.

Both the county commissioners and the state highway department look upon the plan with hearty approval. It is hoped by the planting of trees to perform a service for future generations as our forefathers who planted the many beautiful trees in Jacksonville performed a service for the citizens of the present day.

The Kiwanis public affairs committee, which has charge of this project, consists of Dr. W. P. Duncan, chairman; Lee Sullivan, William Cocking, James Elliott and T. W. Beadles.

"THE BUBBLE" COMES TO THE GRAND THEATRE. The popular three-act comedy "The Bubble," by Edward Lo which will appear here at the Grand Theatre night, Feb. 20 is one in which the original comedy had one of the most successful runs of any play on the American stage. In it Louis M. added to his already well established popularity.

"The Bubble" portrays one humanity's oldest failings—get-rich-quick ambition. It has listened to glowing tales for-unes to be made in a short time, invested real money, a later seen their "bubble" burst but with no shower of gold to them. These experiences have everyone thoroughly in sympathy with the perplexities of this highly amusing comedy.

In "The Bubble" are an elderly couple, their prepossessing daughter, her fiancée, who is a clever young newspaper reporter and a smooth promoter of stocks. The novel and sometimes startling business ideas put forth by the young people, the witty chinatons of the oil stock promoter and the droll humor of old folks convulse the audience with laughter.

EXPLOSION OF GRAIN DUST IN ELEVATORS TO BE MADE IMPOSSIBLE

Menace Will be Removed by the Elimination of Dust—Series of Disastrous Explosions in 1922 Caused Action—Apparatus Will Remove Dust as Grain is Handled

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—The dust explosion menace in grain elevators, which has cost several lives and damage running into millions of dollars in the last few years, is to be removed by elimination of the dust, as a result of investigations conducted by a committee representing grain dealers, boards of trade, fire insurance interests and fire prevention experts.

The Committee on Dust Control in Grain Elevators was organized early in 1922 after a series of disastrous explosions, including the $2,500,000 blast which destroyed the mammoth concrete elevator of the Armour Grain Company and the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad here, with a loss of several lives. The insurance companies paid $1,600,000 claims on that explosion. Canada has had three disastrous explosions recently, one at St. Johns, N. B., one at Montreal and the third at Port Colborne, Ont.

As a result of investigations the same thing is true undertaken by A. R. Small, chairman of the committee and vice-president of the Fire Underwriters Laboratories here, the committee has decided to recommend installation of apparatus in all elevators to remove the dust from the grain as it is handled.

The Underwriters Laboratories has been commissioned to develop the apparatus and standards of practice to be followed to insure removal of the dust, without sucking out any solid grains.

The investigation by the laboratories has uncovered considerable information as to the cause of dust explosions. In an average car load of grain brought to the elevators there is about thirty pounds or two bushels of light dust, which is subject to spontaneous combustion as a result of oxidation when exposed to air, making it particularly dangerous.

"Dust is more dangerous than solids because of the greater surface exposed to the air," according to Mr. Small. "A pound of coal in a lump, offers a certain amount to the oxygen in the air. Crush the same amount of coal in to dust and the exposed surface is greatly multiplied, increasing the

MARRIAGE RECORD ALMOST REACHED

WHAT FIRE COSTS YEARLY IN ILLINOIS

State Suffered Nearly Twenty-Five Million Dollar Loss in 1921.

Can it be that residents of Illinois really are not much concerned about the persistently mounting cost of living? That, of course, is highly unlikely; yet it appears from figures compiled by the Actuarial Bureau of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and made public today, $24,765,369 worth of property was burned in this state during 1921; and this is a waste which definitely and substantially affects living expenses.

To this total fire loss—which places Illinois third among the forty-eight states—every man, woman and child contributed an average of $3.82, although few probably realized it. In 1913, the destruction amounted to $15,367,218 which indicates the startling increase in three years of $9,398,151. It is customary, also, to add to the total 25 per cent for unreported and uninsured losses.

Analysis of the elaborate tabulation published by the National Board establishes the fact that, of the twenty so-called originating causes, "Spontaneous Combustion" was chiefly responsible for this monstrous waste. Its share of the damage inflicted was $2,019,090. Following this came "Matches-Smoking," with $1,470,558, and "Lightning," to which was attributed $1,382,337 loss. Fire prevention engineers consider that fully 75 per cent of the country's permanent fire destruction always is clearly preventable, because to that extent it is due to public habits of carelessness and to ignorance.

Turned to use instead of to smoke, such a sum as Illinois lost in 1921 would have built no fewer than 243 modern, fire-resistant school houses, at an individual cost of $100,000. Applied as much of it might have been, to construction of good macadam roads, to erection and maintenance of hospitals or to any one of a score of public works, this amount of money would have served the two-fold purpose of improving conditions and at the same time lowering taxes.

Furthermore, there were sundry incidental losses, apart from the main ones that should not be forgotten. All of the property destroyed was automatically removed, at least for a time, from municipal tax rolls, which, of necessity, meant an increased levy upon other property holders. The heavy cost of extinguishing the many individual fires that resulted in the $24,765,369 total is one which must be reckoned with, and this expense, too, was borne by the public.

Regrettable beyond everything else, however, and completely overshadowing the combined financial burden, was the loss of life and the injuries from fire which, in company with the rest of the states, Illinois had to record. Indeed, to realize that at least three-fourths of the life and property sacrifice might, with care and knowledge, have been avoided, and not to feel strongly thru agency of public instruction in the prevention of fire, is scarcely possible for any one who has at heart his own best interests and those of Illinois.

New England Working Overtime

Babson Points Out Good Markets in Northeast

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Feb. 16.—Roger W. Babson, at the beginning of each year, makes a personal trip of inspection thruout the United States, comparing actual conditions with those reflected by the statistics. Although his trip covering some 30 states and 26 leading cities is not yet complete, his findings in New England as outlined in an authentic statement given today, shows that section of the country in good condition.

"The business depression which has been moving like a storm wave across the United States during the past two years," says Mr. Babson, "started in 1919 in Connecticut. To be exact Bridgeport, Connecticut was the first city to really suffer. During 1920 entire New England was under the cloud and unemployment was prevalent thruout the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. Before any other section—with the possible exception of the South—experienced trouble, New England was in the midst of a business depression. In accordance with the law of action and reaction, New England would, therefore, be the first to recover. Improved conditions, therefore, made their appearance late in 1921. If it had not been for the textile strikes of last year, 1922 would have been a very good year for most of this section. Owing, however, to these textile strikes—which were not settled until the latter part of the year—New England business has held back. Conditions are now reasonably satisfactory and these six states are all doing well.

"Maine—although suffering from an unfortunate potato crop—is enjoying an increased demand for pulp, paper and her other products. New Hampshire's cotton mills are working full capacity; the woolen and most of the other industries of Massachusetts are in good shape. Rhode Island is very busy, and Connecticut is coming back as rapidly as can be expected. Of course, Connecticut war work is gone—and I know none forever—but the manufacture of hardware is growing. Owing to the great era of suburban building—due to the automobile—the demand for Connecticut hardware should be very great for some years to come. Vermont is the only New England state which is not showing much activity.

"Readers desiring to sell goods or secure employment in New England should visit such cities as Springfield, Holyoke, Worcester and Fall River, Mass.; Manchester, New Hampshire; and Portland, Maine. The shoe cities of Lynn and Brockton show some improvement over last year, but have not yet come fully back—Boston is still fairly quiet and Providence is not as active as Springfield and Worcester. All New England cities are profiting from the good investment conditions of today. New England is the home of investors. Hence, when stocks and bonds are low, New England feels poor. Today, however, with a strong stock market and a good bond market, people feel more like spending money. This means that not only are the wage workers of New England buying merchandise but the well-to-do are also freely spending money. To quote Mr. Ford: 'In some sections I shall sell more Fords and in other sections more Lincolns in 1923; but in New England I expect to sell more of both grades of cars.'

"Land is still reasonable in price throughout these six states. People coming from other sections of the country are astonished at the low figures quoted on the finest suburban land, especially within ten miles of Boston. Good land for building, with all conveniences—such as water, gas and electricity can be bought for twelve cents a foot and the choicest lots can be secured at twenty cents. This means that the suburban development in New England should be very great during the next few years. Consequently there will be a keen demand for building materials, and both skilled and common labor. New England is fast becoming the great summer play ground of the United States—as people go to Florida and California in the winter, they visit New England in the summer.

"The growth of the Summer Business Conferences which we hold every year at Wellesley, reflects this tendency. Each year, for three years, the Babson Institute has been obliged to build a new and larger auditorium to take care of the visiting business men who came between July 25th and August 10th from all parts of the country. Northfield and other conference centers have had a similar experience and we are looking forward to 1923 being our largest year—ever—for high grade summer resorts.

"When studying New England conditions, it is most interesting to consider the sources of wealth in these six states—Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut. They are almost void of natural resources. They have no coal or iron, no copper or other metals. The fields of New England are not fertile—I remember my grandfather, who was a farmer in Gloucester, saying that all his possessions were 'sticks and bushes and a little red clover.' Great stone walls on every farm are evidence that the early settlers certainly had rocks to contend with. Statistics show the real assets of New England to be her industry, thrift, honesty and a desire to be of service. It has been these intangible—but all-important forces which have made New England. These six states stand today, a monument to what can be accomplished without natural resources if people are only actuated by the right motives.

"Improved conditions in New England strongly suggest that the trouble today with some of the duller sections of our country is that they lack industry, thrift, honesty or a desire to be of service. Activity in the northeast is largely responsible for the high figure registered this week by the Babsonchart. It now stands at 3 per cent above normal. When you consider that this figure combines all sections of the country and all lines of industry—and knowing as you do how dull are certain sections and certain lines—the part played by New England in bringing up this figure is most evident."

Discuss State Police Measure and Hard Road Bond Issue.

Two meetings were held yesterday afternoon at the Farm Bureau offices. At 1:30 o'clock the executive board of the farm bureau and the township chairman met to discuss the advisability of the adoption of the state police bill and the proposed hard road bond issue by the state legislature. The action of those present at the meeting was recorded and will be sent to the I. A. A. as expressing the sentiments of the local organization. C. A. Rowe presided at this meeting.

Representatives of the Duroc Breeders' association, Poland China Breeders' associations met at the farm bureau office at 2 o'clock for a discussion of the ton litter project. L. A. Reed presided at this meeting and it was decided that the ton litter project be undertaken. At the next meeting of the Morgan County Breeders' association the arrangements for the project will be completed and the subject of prizes will be discussed.

HATTERAS WETTEST SPOT IN THE UNITED STATES LAST YEAR

North Carolina Town Had More Rainfall—Yuma Was the Dryest Place—Rainfall Was Under Normal All Over the Country—Gulf States got More Than Normal Fall

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The country was not so wet last year as it normally is. Philadelphia was the driest it has been in 100 years. Compilations of the weather bureau show that 96 of the 175 reporting stations had less rainfall than normally. Hatteras, N. C., was the wettest spot, while Yuma, Ariz., was the dryest. Mobile, Ala. was a close second for the wettest place and El Paso, Tex. took second position as dryest.

From the Mississippi Valley eastward, the amount of precipitation ranged generally from about thirty inches in the upper Lake region to between fifty and sixty inches in most of the Gulf Coast States, although slightly less than thirty inches of precipitation fell in much of Pennsylvania.

Between the Mississippi River and the Rocky Mountains, the precipitation ranged from about twelve inches at Havre, Mont. to about fifty inches in southern Texas. Less than ten inches were reported in most of the northern Rocky Mountain districts and the far southwest. On the Pacific coast precipitation varied from about sixty inches in extreme southern California.

The outstanding features of precipitation during the year compared with the normal were the large deficiencies in amount in the far Northwest, especially in western Washington, and also in the area from central Colorado southward. Tacoma, Wash., received but little more than half the normal annual rainfall, while in extreme western Texas and southeastern New Mexico, less than half the annual amount was received. There was a general deficiency also in the Central-Northern States from the western upper Lake region to the Rocky Mountains, except at a few points in Montana and North Dakota.

Less than the normal amount was recorded very generally from western Tennessee, Arkansas and Missouri northeastward over the Ohio Valley and Lake region. This year was unprecedentedly dry in portions of Pennsylvania. Compared with the normal, the amounts unevenly distributed in New York and New England. In the Atlantic Coast States from Virginia southward and also in the Gulf States more than the normal amount of precipitation fell as a rule. There was more than the normal amount also in north-central Texas, southeastern Kansas, central and western South Dakota, extreme northwestern North Dakota, southern Minnesota, the northern portions of Utah and Nevada and in much of the central portion of California.

Mr. and Mrs. John Morris at Mrs. Wyllie Ruby of Arcadia were among Saturday shoppers in Jacksonville.

LITTLE EVIDENCE OF DAMAGE TO CROPS

Winter Wheat Crop Seems Safe Despite Sharp Weather and Fact that Much of it Was Unprotected.

SPRINGFIELD.—(By A. P.)—Little evidence of damage to the winter crop of the state is indicated in reports to the bureau of markets and crop estimates, but some apprehension is felt owing to the sharp weather changes with much of the winter wheat area unprotected by snow cover, says the semi-monthly report is sent today by a special agricultural statistician.

"Some snow fell during the last week, affording protection in many northern counties," the report states, "but the central and southern parts of the state are bare. Soil moisture continues rather deficient except in the extreme south.

"The country movement of corn is freer than during January but offerings are not heavy. Oats are moving in heavier volume than last month.

"Grass crops are reported to be standing the winter in fair condition. The movement of hay is only moderate. Grass seed is being sown in some central and southern counties.

"Live stock is in better than ordinary condition for this time of year due to the unusually mild winter and liberal farm feed supplies, especially forage feed. No unusual amount of disease is reported among stock.

"Farm labor is reported sufficient to meet the present light demand, but the outlook is that it will not be quite so plentiful this season due to the increased industrial demand.

"Farm activities during the last two weeks have consisted of the usual winter routine work, pruning fruit trees, overhauling farm machinery, preparing for spring work and some plowing. Roads are reported mostly in rough condition."

USE OF HORSES IS SOUND ECONOMY

URBANA.—Since the use of horses is sound economy and a large portion of them are old, unsound and never of a desirable type now is the logical time to increase the production of the right kind, according to Prof. J. L. Edmonds, of the University of Illinois department of horse husbandry.

"We need more good farm horses," states Prof. Edmonds. The prices are really good ones are not so low when compared with present grain prices. The diverting of necessary feed, grain roughage and pasture to grow horses and keep work horses will prevent the dumping of large quantities of grain on the market. If only desirable mares and stallions are mated there need be no fear of over-production. Attention must be paid to individual merit. A good test of work horse is his ability to stand hard work during hot weather."

Among visitors in the city yesterday from the Pisgah neighborhood were William Bishop and daughter Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bingham, and Mrs. Mary Aurness and daughter Helen.

If you stop to recall when your clock or watch last went to the jeweler you'll say "it's been a long time." WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

President Barker returned Friday afternoon from an extended trip in southern Illinois. While there he was at McKendree College with other members of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church to ascertain the needs of this institution.

The department of Physical Education is fortunate in securing the services of Miss Elizabeth Graybeal, who arrived in the city Saturday the 17th. Miss Graybeal will give all her time to the work and will be a decided help to Miss Boyd.

The Basket Ball Tournament will begin on the 27th and will continue each evening until the college championship has been decided. It is expected that the public will be admitted to these contests. Interesting fire prevention experiments were shown to the students of the college at the chapel exercises on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The demonstrations were chiefly concerned with preventable fires; actual fires were started as part of the demonstration so that the students could see the results of carelessness. The affair was in charge of the fire drill committee.

—Picture It at Your Own Door!

A car to be proud of! Beautiful from bumper to bumper. Artistic, appealing, impressive!

Sit at the wheel and command a full fifty-horsepower motor, with six smooth, well-lubricated cylinders. Shift the gears as you have always been told not to—fast as the hand can move. No pause, no clash.

You simply cannot "jerk" this Jewett car! A new-type clutch does it. Drop from "high" to "second" at 30 miles per hour. Crawl at 2 miles; shoot along at 60—Jewett's everyday high-gear range. Accelerate from 5 to 25 miles per hour in seven seconds.

Equaling Jewett's fascinating ease of handling is its smooth riding at whatever speed. Rugged six-inch frame and Paige-Timken axles of finest workmanship combine with long, flat springs and scientifically distributed weight to ride you restfully.

Everything heart could wish is included in the appointments: Full-nicked double bar spring bumpers front and rear. Trunk rack and trunk at rear, with graceful body rails to protect finish. Full-nicked radiator. Nicked motometer. Nicked barrel-type head lamps and side lights. Extra cord tire, tube, rim and drum-style cover in front at left. Ventilator in cowl. Adjustable sun and storm visor. Automatic windshield wiper. Combination tail-light and automatic stop-light. (Disc-type wheels shown are optional, at slight extra cost.)

Picture such a car as this always at the disposal of yourself and your family! Rolling over city streets or summer-bordered highroads, taking the mountain tour or cross-country spin, weather-free and storm-protected in all seasons! Laying on softest cushions with all accessories of comfort near: Taffeta shades, window regulators, arm-rests, robe-rail, heater, rear-view mirror, etched dome light.

Isn't that your ideal of fine-fashioned motor-ing? And this Jewett Special Six Sedan its ideal medium? Please come in and look at it.

Mr. Geo. T. Lukeman, local Ford dealer who has just returned home from St. Louis where he attended the Automobile Show, is most enthusiastic over the Lincoln and Ford car exhibits there.

"The Lincoln car display of the Ford Motor Company was most attractive and held the attention of every one interested in quality cars," he said. "The Lincoln cars show remarkable advances in the construction of fine motor car body work and are distinguished by superior finish. Mechanically the cars show a number of refinements and a new conception in finish of the working parts of the motor itself. All developments in the Lincoln tend toward the ultimate perfection in automobile design and construction."

"New improvements in the Ford cars, both open and enclosed models, are attracting much favorable attention and many comments are heard regarding the finish which is on a very high quality aspect. The new slanting windshield on the open models is most popular and persons interested in the enclosed types remark upon the excellence of the fabrics used in the upholstery and also upon the window lowering devices which are of the same general nature as those used in the higher priced automobiles. The high excellence of the Ford performance is, of course, universally recognized."

"Reports coming in at the St. Louis Branch show rather surprising sales of Ford cars and indications are that a shortage will come by early spring."

"The production schedule set for the Ford Motor Company's plant at Detroit for 1923 is 6,000 cars a day, but this schedule will not be reached until about April 1st."

"Sales now are running more than 100,000 a month, and have been since last April, in fact, and at present absorption is about neck and neck with production."

"There is no question but what the prospective purchaser of a Ford car will act wisely if he places his order immediately. Then he will be assured of having his car when he wants it and will not have to wait."

What Does It Mean To 'Have Your Block Ground'

The Crank Shaft Grinder is built on the order of a Lath, with a live center on the tail stock.

The Shaft can be centered in chucks on head stock and tail stock in such a manner that the crank pin center is on a true center of rotation. This construction enables the operator to bring a grinding wheel surface in contact with the shaft surface and polish-cut the worn pin to a true round surface.

These are factory equipment machines and duplicate the original finish and trueness of the shaft.
This work must also be done under favorable conditions by skilled mechanics.

The valves of the motor are the next important working parts. The Poppet Valve Motor carries valves made of Tungsten steel which must be ground accurately and have just the proper clearance in guide.

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

Miss Sapio has just received a letter from Charles D. Isaacson, editor of the Music Page of the New York Evening Mail, asking her to play at a concert to be held on February 25 in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building on 57th Street, New York City. The concert is one of a series arranged by Mr. Isaacson with the object of giving first class music free of charge to a public who otherwise could not afford to hear that class of concert. Such artists as Amato, Jeanne Gordon, and other Metropolitan Stars as well as famous pianists and violinists have appeared on these programs which are usually given in the auditorium of the high schools and other institutions of Brooklyn and New York. This big work is sponsored by the Evening Mail, which ad-

CAPTURES FULL-GROWN
EAGLE WITH BARE HANDS

Reichenhall, Bavaria—Capturing a full-grown golden eagle alive in his arms has brought fame to a 71-year-old pen-sant living in the Ariborg mountains on the Austrian side of the Bavarian frontier.

The old man was approaching his haystack when he spied the eagle devouring a roebuck which it apparently had just killed by severing the animal's jugular vein.
When it noticed him coming, the eagle tried to fly away but snow on the ground impeded its rise.
The peasant rushed forward and,
gathering the huge bird's wings and claws in his arms, succeeded in carrying it away captive despite its vicious attempts to get free.

RUSSIANS WILL NOT VISE JAP PASSPORTS

TOKIO.—Japanese residents are having a hard time in Siberia since the Soviet authorities took over the administration of Japanese who remained in Vladivostok and vicinity when the Japanese army withdrew. 500 have asked the government to assist them to return but the Russian officials refuse to vize their passports.
Similar conditions, it is said, prevail at Chita.

Shichiro Kojima, a member of the Tokyo City Assembly, who recently returned from Chita said:

The recent political change placed the Chita authorities on stricter guard than ever on the frontier. The entrance to Chita of Japanese is almost prohibited. A few Japanese who succeeded in entering Chita were imprisoned by the authorities and were released only when they had convinced the authorities as to the innocence of their purpose.

Russo-Japanese commercial intercourse at Chita and Harbin now is practically suspended. All communication between the Japanese residents within and without the Chita government's jurisdiction is intercepted. Under these circumstances, it will be long time yet before Russo-Japanese trade is reestablished.

tendance.

COMPLETES 4 YEAR

COURSE IN 3 YEARS

Evanston—Completion of a 4-year university course in three years, chiefly thru the eyes of her mother, a 'varsity debater, one of three women ever to make the team, and a member of several scholarship societies, such is the record of Miss Enid Miller of Oklahoma City, a senior in the school of speech at Northwestern University.

Miss Miller's eyesight was impaired at birth and in order to conserve it for mature years, her mother has read all subjects to her since beginning grammar school. Mastery of touch in typing reports and notes and the art of committing to memory subjects far beyond normal capacity, aided Miss Miller in overcoming her handicap.

When Northwestern won unanimously from the University of Chicago in a recent debate, Miss Miller's argument was partially responsible, according to coaches.
Unable to use memoranda cards in quoting references to authorities, Miss Miller spoke from memory. She frequently has been commended by authorities.

FARM BUREAU NOTES

New Sprays for San Jose Scale
The experiments carried on this winter with the lubricating oil emulsion continue to give good results in the control of the San Jose scale. The laboratory work with the emulsion has shown that it is of advantage in making the stock emulsion to change the formula slightly from that previously given.

The following is the formula
now recommended:

Formula for stock emulsion.
Diamond paraffin oil or similar grade of oil1 gal.

Water2 lbs.

Sh fish-oil soap2 lbs.

The water, soap and oil are mixed in a kettle or other receptacle and heated to a boil, heating may be done by open fire or steam. Boil for about five minutes being careful not to burn the mixture, remove from the fire or turn off the steam and pump twice at a pressure of 50 to 100 pounds. Make sure that all the mixture passes thru the pump twice. Do not allow the mixture to cool before pumping. Where lime sulphur has not been giving satisfactory control, it would be satisfactory to use this material, although we do not as yet give it an unqualified recomen-dation, due to the fact that our results are taken from only one year's work.—W. P. Flint, state entomologist.

Legumes are Essential for Permanent Crop Production—This is a broad statement and if we were considering the permanent production of crops in the greenhouse or in a garden, or under the intensive systems of agriculture in China, such a statement

probably would not stand a chal-

CHARGES PLOTS

Radical plots, troubles and agitation are largely stirred up by private detective agencies for their own pecuniary benefit in apprehending them, according to charges made by Albert Ballin, alias Balanow, shown above.
Ballin, who testified recently in Chicago, is 28 years old, and has been a member of the Department of Justice, of the Military Intelligence Service, of the I. W. W.
and other radical organizations;
besides serving as operative for he Burns, Thiel and other private detective agencies.

ence. But for the permanent and economical production of our great staple field crops in a large way, under American condition legumes are essential. Let us consider briefly the principal reason why this statement is true.

All farm crops require large quantities of nitrogen and with the exception of the legumes draw upon the soil for their supply of this essential food constituent. It is easy to understand therefore that the continuous culture and removal of crops from the land must eventually exhaust
the stock of nitrogen in the soil.

Unless there be some way of replenishing it. By special endowment the leguminous plants,
among which are the clovers, peas, beans, alfalfa and vetch, are capable of drawing upon the inexhaustible supply of nitrogen in the air and utilizing this in their food requirements. In so doing, these plants, thru the decay of their own tissues, add nitrogen to the soil transformed into food that is available for the other crops that follow. Thus by taking advantage of this remarkable provision of nature, and introducing periodically into our rotations a crop of legumes, we are able to avoid that calamity predicted by some scientists not so very many years ago, namely, ultimate nitrogen starvation.

Another very important benefit derived from the growing of legumes, and one which perhaps has hitherto not been duly appreciated, should be mentioned.
As a class, the legumes, especially such biennial and perennial legumes as red clover, sweet clover, and alfalfa, are possessed of an unusual power to assimilate from mineral sources such plant foods as potassium, phosphorus and calcium converting them into available forms of food for the crops that follow. For this reason it is especially advantageous to employ such legumes in connection with the application of limestone and rock phosphate.
When their growth and subsequent decay large quantities of the mineral foods are liberated for the benefit of the less independent feeding cereal crops which follow in the rotation.

In considering the great importance of the benefit of legumes to the cropping system as a whole, the fact should not be overlooked that legumes are well worth a place in the cropping program on their own account because of their great value as food and forrage for a man and beast.—H. L.
Smith, department of agronomy,
U. of I.

SURGEON COMPLIMENTS
AMERICAN COLLEAGUES

Stockholm.—"America is ahead of Europe in brain and nerve surgery, and the American surgeon work with remarkable skill and precision." Thus speaks Rinar
Key, head physician of the Muria Hospital in Stockholm and one of Sweden's best known surgeons, upon returning from a 3 months trip to the United States where he had visited leading hospitals and observed the work of the most eminent surgeons.

While in America Dr. Key lectured at a medical congress arranged by the American college of Surgeons in Boston. He visited large clinics in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Buffalo, Cleveland, Baltimore, Syracuse, and other places. He declares that American hospitals have better laboratory facilities than those of Europe, while he finds the Swedish hospitals, as a rule, are brighter and more cheerful than those in America.

GOLD BEARING CLAY FOUND IN GERMANY

Corbach, Germany.—Gold deposits have been located in the iron-ore mountains near here. One ton of clay earth, which was analyzed as an experiment, was found to contain 44 grams of the precious metal. This assay aroused the interest of German experts, in view of the fact there are gold mines in operation which net only 10 grams of gold per ton of earth.
Boring deposits have been uncovered in several different parts of the mountains.

OPERATIONS FOR RISE INTERRUPTED

Financial Summary
Saturday's total sales, 751,000 shares.
Twenty industrials averaged 103.23; low 96.96.
High, 1923, 103.23; low, 96.96.
Twenty railroads averaged 89.29; net gain, .05.
High, 1923, 89.56; low, 84.63.
Bond sales, par value, $1,986,000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Operations for the rise which have been conducted with great vigor for two weeks again were interrupted today by profit-taking sales giving the stock market an irregular appearance. Total sales were the largest of any half holiday session in recent months.
One of the most significant developments was the establishment of a new high record for sterling exchange, since the "pegged rate" of $4.75 was removed by the British government in March, 1919. Demand bills sold today for $4.69 1/2 or 1/4 of a cent above the previous high which was established last December and duplicated twice during the past week.
The par rate of sterling is $4.85. When foreign exchange rates collapsed so disastrously in the spring of 1920 the rate fell to $3.18, the lowest ever recorded.
Domestic developments continue to dominate the course of stock prices little or no attention being paid to the foreign situation.
Sales of copper at 15 1/2 cents a pound, the highest since 1920 and another increase of ten cents a barrel for mid-continent crude furnished speculators for the advance with additional ammunition in their campaign to boost prices. Reports of an early advance in tire prices also were circulated around the financial district during the day.
Baldwin established a new top at 142 but dropped back to 140 1/2 at the close where it was off 1/4 on the day. Studebaker crossed 120 again but was unable to hold the gain and sagged to 119 1/2 off 1/4 on the day.
United States Steel also closed slightly lower.
Coppers were in great demand in the final dealings. New high records were established by Kennecott at 32 1/2; Inspiration at 40 1/2; Cerro de Pasco at 46 1/2 and Itay 15 1/2.
Rails showed mixed changes mostly upward.
Outside of sterling exchange there was little interest and activity in the foreign exchange.
United States government securities continued reactionary the net losses ranging from 2 to 6 cents on $100.

WHEAT AVERAGED HIGHER IN PRICE

CHICAGO, Feb. 17.—Wheat averaged a little higher in price today with buying based more or less on the British war debt settlement at Washington and on asserted cheapness of wheat compared with the general commodity list. The market closed unsettled at 1/4 decline to 1/4 advance May $1.19 1/2 to $1.20 and July $1.15 1/2 to $1.15 1/2. Corn gained 1/4 to 1/2c to $1.15 1/2, oats finished 1/4 off to 1/4 up and provisions varying from 2c setback to a rise of 10c.
An upward slant shown by the wheat market at the outset was taken in some quarters as due chiefly to senate action disposing of any doubt which might have remained in regard to plans for funding Great Britain's financial obligations to the United States. A little upturn in wheat values at Liverpool tended somewhat to emphasize this view. Bulls also were encouraged owing to early absence of any extensive selling movement.
On the upturn in the wheat market some renewal of liquidation for eastern interests became apparent and the May delivery showed considerable weakness at times. Meagerness of export dealings was used as a bear factor in this connection but cold weather expected to last several days longer in the domestic winter wheat territory acted as something of an offset.
Speculative buying gave independent strength to the corn market and helped to sustain oats.
Exporters were after corn and there were signs of better eastern and southern demand for oats.
Despite weakness of hog values provisions were firmer with grain and in line with cotton seed oil.

Produce Market Review
Comparing the earnings of branches of national production, the Bureau of Census shows that the poultry industry has advanced to third place within the last decade. Today, only the corn crop and the dairy cow outrank the hen as a producer of national wealth. Below the hen on the list are petroleum, wheat, cotton, anthracite coal, potatoes, oats, copper and gold, in that order.
Until recently, poultry raising has been a hobby or a sideline for farmers, to be attended to by their wives while the men did the work in the fields. Even yet there are few who engage in poultry raising as compared with the number who pay specific attention to raising corn or cattle or cotton.
Yet in 1919 poultry products of the United States were worth $1,947,323,170—more than twice as much as all the anthracite coal mined, three times as much as all the gold produced, and nearly half again as much as all the petroleum which came from the wells, or all the wheat grown on our farms.
A much lighter volume of dressed poultry reached the four large consuming markets, Chicago, New York, Boston and Philadelphia during the week, resulting in somewhat firmer prices.
The United States Department of Agriculture reports stocks of poultry in the freezer as of February 1:
5 year average stock, 92,322,000 pounds; 1923, 120,427,000 pounds; 1922, 103,350,000 pounds; Excess, 17,077,000 pounds.
As receipts of dressed poultry are not now large enough to take care of current needs, some stock is being withdrawn from storage to make up the deficiency.
While the amount of poultry in storage is larger than last year, consumption is heavier, because the wholesale price is somewhat lower than at this time last year.
Because of the larger stocks, moderate prices will, no doubt, prevail, preventing an unusual advance in paying prices for live stock, at least until present stocks are greatly reduced.
Cream deliveries have been much lighter during the last ten days, due to the severe storms, which overrode the producing sections. The market quickly reflected these conditions with advanced quotations in the consuming centers. Higher prices are generally being paid for butterfat through producing sections.
The egg market, always sensitive to sudden, wide-spread changes in temperature, was quickly affected by the severe storms of the week. The market quotations, advancing with each new report of the storm's intensity.
With the passing of the cold wave, prices may be expected to decline rapidly to their former levels and mild, fair weather through the producing territory will probably result in increased collections and further depress the market.
Eggs are now produced in a much larger area so that a widespread storm covering even many of the Central States will have only temporary effect on the markets, so late in February. Take New York for instance: eggs are reaching that market in abundance from California, Oregon, Washington, Texas and Kansas, with smaller quotas from the Central States, so New York City is not dependent on its supply from the Mississippi Valley as in years past.

FARM NOTES

URBANA, Ill.—Careful conservation and use of all organic residues in an effort to prevent the depletion of this important soil constituent, is advocated by the soil physics division of the University of Illinois. It was assumed until somewhat recently, says the department, that good farm practice demanded the utilization of all crop residues, either directly or indirectly in manure, as a means of maintaining the soil organic matter. "This teaching now is questioned, insofar as it included the return of the more inert residues directly to the soil, such as straw," states the department. "This appears to be one of the important problems connected with the welfare of our land and needs immediate careful experimental study."
The farm lay-out is just as important a consideration in the economical production of farm crops as the arrangement of the machines in a commercial manufacturing plant, says the department of farm organization and management. Sanitation is one of the first things to consider in the location of the farmstead, as buildings should be erected where good drainage is possible.
"They should be located so that each field is readily accessible for all purposes, as field convenience is a most important factor today. The rotation followed will determine the number of fields in the farm plan. They should be as near equal in size as the acreage and natural conditions will permit and as regular in shape as possible. Some fields are hard and expensive to work economically and require more fence per acre."

A Reid Memorial association has been formed for the purpose of raising a fund of 10,000, part of the income from which will be devoted to the support of the widow and daughter of James L. Reid, accredited originator of Reid's Yellow Dent Corn. The family is almost destitute. Student research work on corn also will be carried on thru income expected to be derived from the endowment.
Experiments conducted this winter with lubricia oil on emulsion continue to give good results in the control of the San Jose scale, according to the state Entomologist. Laboratory work has shown it is of advantage in making the stock emulsion to slightly change the formula previously announced.
A large number of orchardists in Jersey county are planning to use two per cent oil emulsion for the dormant spray instead of lime sulphur, reports R. L. Eymann, county extension agent. Prepared oil emulsion in barrels will be purchased collectively. Pruning is under way in the county, there having been little cold weather to interfere.
The legume yield per acre much more feed as pasture and hay of a high feeding value than do the non-legumes and the value of the manure produced is greater than the value of the manure from non legume pastures, hay and concentrates, according to H. S. Grindley, professor of animal nutrition.
"The legume pastures and legume hays, especially alfalfa, soy beans and red clover, are, as a rule, the cheapest and best sources of protein, mineral matters and vitamins for the balancing of the predominating carbonaceous feeds produced on the farms in Illinois and are adaptable to feeding all classes of live stock."
Sweet clover has gained so much prominence in Mason county in recent years that the demand for this kind of seed surpasses that for common red clover, advises T. R. Isaacs, extension agent. Interest in sweet clover this spring continued strong.
Some losses from the so-called "toad yards fever," is reported by W. B. Richards, extension agent in Kane county. "We have found that our feeders have been able to avoid losses by keeping the cattle warm and dry for a few days after arrival on the farm and by feeding laxative feeds. Cattle generally affected are those that have been around the yards for some time. Fresh cattle seldom are affected. It shows there are advantages in getting cattle direct from the farms and shows the need of a plan for feeders to buy direct."

INCOME TAX FACTS

No. 17.
In computing net income a taxpayer may deduct from gross income losses incurred in his trade or business, in "for profit" or if from fires, storms, shipwreck or other casualty, or from theft.
Deductions for losses are permitted only to the extent they are not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

A manufacturer may be compelled to scrap machinery because it has gradually become obsolete.
He may deduct the loss sustained if he has sold or otherwise abandoned the old machinery, usually to be deductible as a loss

HAD CLOSE SHAVE
"My wife and children thought I was dying when, after an attack of acute pains in my stomach, I became unconscious. It was right after our Sunday dinner. They say I looked like dead and guess I had a pretty close shave. I had been having more or less stomach trouble and bloat with gas for past two years and could get no permanent help. Talking with a friend about my attack, he advised me to try Mary's Wonderful Remedy. I have not had any gas or stomach trouble since taking it eighteen months ago." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

LOST AND FOUND
LOST—Key purse and keys.
Finder please call 695X. 2-11-11t been sustained must have completely disappeared as a resource to the taxpayer.

If a tax payer demolishes building used in his trade or business and replaces it, he may deduct the loss sustained, including a reasonable allowance for depreciation and salvage, if any.
But if he acquires as the site of a new building land occupied by an old building is not considered a loss. Expenditure in such connection is an investment of capital, therefore, not deductible.

Losses connected with transactions "entered into for profit," not connected with the taxpayer's trade or business, must conform closely to the wording of the statute to be allowed. For example, a lawyer may purchase a warehouse with the object of de-riving an income from the rental.
A physician buys shares of stock on which he hopes to make a profit. Both sustain losses upon a subsequent sale, which are deductible. But if either should sell his residence which at the time of purchase, was bought without intention of resale, the loss, if any, would not be deductible, because it was not a transaction "entered into for profit."

Similarly, a loss connected with the sale of an automobile bought for the pleasure or convenience of the taxpayer cannot be deducted.

PIG INCREASE IN SAVINGS ACCOUNT

CHICAGO—Savings deposits in the United States increased by about $1,500,000 in 1922 as compared with 1921, according to preliminary figures tabulated by the Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers Association and announced here through district headquarters.

The figures show that, compared to reported savings deposits on June 30, 1921, of $16,618,695, 000, the amount for the corresponding date in 1922 was $18,087,493,000.

The number of savings accounts indicated by the partial data in hand was 28,957,526 on June 30, 1922, as compared to 26,637,831 on the corresponding date in 1921, a gain of 2,319,695. For both the amount of savings and the number of depositors, later data of states from which complete returns have not yet been received are expected to show larger gains for 1922.

According to this report school savings systems reported deposits of $3,500,000 during the last school year, an increase of 40 per cent over 1921 and 10 per cent over 1920. The number of school systems also increased by over 100 per cent during the last school year, and the number of pupils reported as participating was 1,271,000, a growth of 50 per cent over the previous school year.

The data collected by the Savings Bank Division indicates that life insurance, not including beneficial societies or the government bureau now carried on American lives totals more than $50,000,000,000. Premiums on new business during the year ending November 1, 1922, amounted to $225,980,000. The total premiums, including the payments on quantities, paid during the year, amounted to more than $1,500,000,000. The amount of new life insurance purchased during the year 1922 was $9,300,000,000, an increase of $600,000,000 or 7 per cent over 1921.

Miss Miriam McCumber, alumnae field secretary of the Woman's College is pending a week in Galesburg, Peoria and Pekin in the interest of the college alumnae association.

They Are Marvels of Beauty

—That is the remark of every one who has seen the new and lovely "spring 1923" patterns in imported and domestic woolsens and worsteds which we are showing. They are wonderfully soft in texture and lustrous in finish, yet so firm in weave as to hold any form they are worked up into perfectly.

—They exclaim, "Marvels of Beauty," and they might well add "of utility" as well, and "remarkably reasonably priced."

—We ask your early inspection.

A Pink Reflection

WOULD YOU buy a hand glass which turned everything before it pink? You would not! A mirror reflects exactly what is before it. The Victrola has no "tone." It is just a perfect mirror—that's all. Imagine adding "tone" to Elman's playing! To say that a reproducing machine has tone is to mislead. The Victrola reproduces—with the fidelity of a good mirror—exactly what is in the original. The marvelous accuracy of this reproduction will be demonstrated to you in our private rooms at any time. Do not be misled by "tone" arguments. There is no such thing. To add "tone" to a reproducing instrument would be to destroy the original. A great sum of money and many years' toil by clever people have produced a perfect instrument which gives but one tone—that of the instrument or vocal artist brought before you by its magic.

Visit the original home of the original Victrola—The Victor and see, and hear the new Victors.
